Mr. Smith is a lumberman. He was formerly president of the Lumbermen's Ex. change, and has been a member of the Democratic executive committee of his ward several times.

LUFBERRY DOWNS TWELFTH AIRPLANE

Premier American Aviator Would Have Raised Record With More Ammunition

LOVELL LIKewise ACTIVE

PARIS, Sept. 6. Lieutenant Raoul Lufberry, premier "ace" of the Lafayette escadrille, brought down his twelfth German plane Tuesday and would have made his score thirteen that same day if he had not run out of ammunition.

Word from the camp of the American flyers today brought the details of the American boy's seven flights in two days. On Monday he downed an enemy in a stiff brush—one of five different fights. Tuesday morning he encountered a German flyer and succeeded after a long fight in shooting the runner dead. Then he ran out of ammunition, Sergeant Edwin C. Parsons, of Springfield, Mass., came along and finished the German pilot, downing the machine.

Tuesday afternoon Lufberry encountered another adversary and riddled it with his five brushes in the sky. The two were together most of the day.

The first mix-up was against two enemy planes, and both were driven home after Lufberry's machine had been perforated by incendiary bullets. He landed with the flaming missiles still sticking in his gear. Lufberry next encountered a single enemy flyer and, in the whirling fight that followed, he believed he brought the German down. French official reports have not yet confirmed its destruction, so Lufberry has not yet been cited for the feat.

The third encounter was when Lovell and Lufberry attacked a German plane and forced the enemy to scurry back while four rescuers were winging to his aid. The two Americans fought their remaining battles of the day against German machines endeavoring to protect enemy observation planes.

German aviators have been thick along the line where the Lafayette Escadrille is now located and the enemy apparently has concentrated in its effort to spy out French positions. The German planes come in droves with re-enforcements close behind.

GARFIELD MAKES PUBLIC COAL RATE STATEMENT

President's Order Includes Export and Bunker Varieties, Prices Fixed to Be Provisional

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—H. A. Garfield, coal administrator, has issued a statement concerning the prices fixed by the President on bituminous and anthracite coal, which is in part as follows:

"The President's order fixing prices became effective for bituminous coal Tuesday evening, August 21, 1917, for anthracite coal, Saturday, September 1, 1917. The President's order includes export and bunker coal.

"The prices fixed are provisional. They will stand unless changed by order of the President, for good cause shown. The fuel administration will examine all applications for revision of prices accompanied by cost statements presented in writing. These statements should be verified and cover at least the years 1915, 1916 and 1917 to date.

"It is not proposed to require efficiently operated mines to produce coal at a loss, but the burden rests upon applicants to show that the prices fixed in particular cases are unfair.

"For the purpose of determining a proper basis for sales by retail dealers, local committees will be organized throughout the country.

"Contracts relating to the bituminous coal made prior to the proclamation of the President on August 21, and contracts relating to anthracite coal made before the President's proclamation of August 23, are not affected by these proclamations, provided the contracts are bona fide in character and enforceable at law."

RUSSIAN CIVILIANS TRAPPED AT RIGA

Thousands Wait Too Long and Are Captured by Germans

GENERAL GURKO EXILED

By WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD PETROGRAD, Sept. 6. Thousands of Russian civilians waited too long before obeying orders to flee from Riga. They were captured by the invading Germans.

Refugees from the Baltic city arriving today included some who were aboard the last train to leave. Immediately after they pulled out, while several trainloads of others were assembled, the Germans cut across the railroad from the east. All remaining in the city were bottled up.

So far as could be ascertained from the American embassy no Americans were in Riga when the Germans occupied the city.

"Next to Riga, the public's interest centered today in the active pursuit by the Government of plotters in the royalist counter-revolutionary conspiracy. Scores of arrests throughout all of Russia were reported. Official announcement declared that the Government was in full possession of all details of the plot.

The prisoners already number some of those who in the old days wielded autocratic power of life and death. Several members of the royal family have been arrested. General Gurko, who switched allegiance from the old regime and for a time was a popular hero, fell in the underground plot. With his wife, the former army chief today was ordered under escort to the frontier, there to be expelled from Russia.

Careful investigation was being made today of the astonishing rise in the value of the ruble immediately before the Moscow conference and its correspondingly amazing drop after the meeting. The fluctuation was attributed to many financiers having an inkling of the counter-revolutionary plot to seize Kerensky and his Ministers at Moscow.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6. The Kaiser's language will fight a losing battle with America's school boys and girls when the fall term opens this month. Reports from all parts of the East and the Middle West today showed that, while school boards are not eliminating German from the language courses, the interest of young America in it is rapidly dwindling.

"Why should we drop German?" said a New York school official when asked if changes here were contemplated. "It seems to me we should study it more than ever. Our boys will need it when they march down Unter den Linden."

The Chicago board said there were early indications of a big decrease in the high school demand for German. The demand may be so small that the Teuton language will be dropped altogether.

Students in Shamokin, Pa., voted not to study German. In the Harrisburg, Pa., Central High School inventories made study French and eight German. This appears a fair criterion of conditions in that State, including the "Penny-ante Dutch" belt.

In Columbus, O., the enrollment for German study has decreased 60 per cent and it may be abandoned for lack of interest. In Kansas City the course is to be continued, but authorities are considering deleting all school book references to Wilhelm II.

Indiana colleges will maintain German, but will extend the study of French. In Des Moines all German stories praising the Kaiser were deleted. The literature of Schiller and Goethe, however, will stand. Milwaukee is keeping German, but it is not compulsory and students must buy their own textbooks.

The Case School of Applied Science, Cleveland, will discontinue German during the war, substituting French. Cleveland and Youngstown grammar schools will continue existing classes, but eliminate them as rapidly as possible. German still hangs on Detroit, but many smaller Michigan cities have abandoned it.

National Medley—One Step Columbia Record A5975, $1.25

It rings in six other "befoh de wah" tune-gems, winding up with "Dixie," played with a dash that would make a Vermonter give a Rebel Yell. Prince's Band (under the supervision of G. Hepburn Wilson) renders this music in a way to set the gouty and the rheumatic ringing the doorbells of dancing masters. A two-part record.

Night Time in Little Italy—Fox Trot Columbia Record A2282, 75c.

There's something about the roll and staccato beat of a drum that stirs every human and sets the feet into rhythmic involuntary motion. With just a piano to help, "Night Time in Little Italy" pours a cascade of meter into a room and gives the weariest trotter a second-wind of energy. "Hezekiah" on the reverse side is a splendid one-step.

Memories—Waltz Columbia Record A5974, $1.25

"Memories" is a new waltz and a good one. Most pleasant memories seem to move through our thoughts in the soft, stately tempo of the waltz, and the waltz itself is an awakener of memories. On the reverse side is a beautiful orchestral playing of a tuncful waltz, "Hawaiian Nights."

Add to these George Cohan's "You're a Grand Old Flag" One-Step, the "Mele Hula" Fox-Trot by the favorite Jockers Brothers, the "Cold Turkey One-Step" by Fector's Orchestra and "Indiana" One-Step by the Dixieland Jazz Band—and you have records the Columbia dealer likes to be asked to play.
